The brand new Faculty Academy for the Scholarship of Education (FASE) is delighted to present a series of lunchtime seminars with the aim of disseminating good practice in education across the Faculty.

Integrated Learning Panel

Tuesday 8th June 2010
12.00pm – 1.30pm
Room G.11, Engineering Civil and Mechanical Building

Integrated learning is a name for a new attack on the ancient problem of how to give students the richest and most professional experiences possible within budget and staff time constraints.

In this session, four speakers will explore the basic premises of integrated learning and discuss how to create an environment in which students are able to act and work as professionals.

This lunchtime seminar will be led by

Dr Nathan Scott
Director
Monadelphous Integrated Learning Centre
In 1996, Nathan completed his PhD in Engineering Education. Since then, he has taught dynamics, design and manufacturing at The University of Western Australia. In 2007, Nathan was named Director of the Monadelphous Integrated Learning Centre.

Yola Szymakowski
After graduating with a Bachelor in Engineering, Yola worked for 15 years in the telecommunications industry. In recent years, she has taught at The University of Western Australia.

Carolyn Oldham
Professor
The University of Western Australia
Carolyn was appointed in 1994 to the Department of Water Research. Since then, she has taught a wide range of units as part of the Environmental Engineering Design Stream.

Judith Stallard
Judith graduated with a Bachelor in Electronic Engineering in 1975. Working with Telstra, she attained a role as General Manager, Contract Management and Programme Implementation. In 2007, Judith was appointed Adjunct Senior Lecturer for the Monadelphous Integrated Learning Centre.
